"A Night-Fowl in the Church Eaves" led by Rev Dr Julie Hopkins

CLARE PRIORY
Saturday 6th April

10.30 - 3.00

Mass at 10.00, for those who wish

A day for study, meditation and celebration of the remarkable hidden lives and wider spiritual roles of medieval anchoresses. An exploration using historical research, the written testimonies of women mystics and the 13th Century guide, the "Ancrene Wisse". In the afternoon, using insights from Mother Julian of Norwich's book of vision, "Revelations of Divine Love", there is a more meditative focus upon the transformative gift of contemplative prayer.

All are welcome

Please bring a packed lunch, refreshments are provided
